These dates don't need to be exact, they are just meant to give an indication of your availability. Please note that, the greater your flexibility, the higher the chance to receive service dates.

Education / Employment History: Here you can attach your CV. It needs to be in English! A simplified translation of your current CV is enough.

Self-disclosure: Here, you will have to answer a few questions that will feel like a light version of a criminal record check (yes/no).

Personal Profile: In this section, you will have to answer more personal questions regarding your motivation for serving with Mercy Ships.

Licenses (qualifications): Here you can attach your diplomas or any other official documentation confirming your skills.

Language Skills: In this section, indicate your level for each language you speak.

Health Requirements: Here you can download a form regarding immunization requirements. At this stage of your application, this is only for your information.

Remarks : In this section, indicate other positions that you are interested in, if you're applying as a couple, or any other relevant information.

What's next?

Congratulations on your application! Here are the next steps:

- The HR team in the USA will receive your application and you will be assigned a volunteer coordinator who will be your main point of contact during the entire process. The Belgian office is also here to help you, but it's your volunteer coordinator who is in charge of your application.
- This volunteer coordinator will contact you via the application platform to introduce themselves and assign tasks for you to fulfill in your «Task Center».
- Make sure you check your online account regularly to see if you've received new messages or tasks. To do this, simply go the opportunities page and click on the icon «Log in» in the right upper corner. Alternatively, you can go directly to apply.mercyships.org and «Log in» there.

The progress of your application

More info needed

As soon as your coordinator will take the lead on your application, he/she will start with assigning you your first task: «Personal Health History». It's a form that needs to be filled out which gives an overview of your state of health. This step is crucial and plays an important role in the final validation of your application. The maritime laws we are submitted to require that all our volunteers are in good health!

Once you've filled out and submitted this form, the HR team will continue processing your application.

At this stage, they can ask you for additional information of any type, particularly regarding your professional skills.

Under review

Once your tasks are completed, Mercy Ships begins reviewing the application. All applications go through a medical review and a role review prior to final acceptance onboard.

Accepted

If your application is accepted, there will be 2 options:

- 1. Application accepted with service dates proposal: you will be asked to complete your next tasks.
- 2. Application accepted, but with no immediate availability for the desired role: you will be placed in our Talent Community and be kept updated.

Talent Community

Our Talent Community is in fact a database of candidates whose applications have been accepted, but for whom there are no dates yet available for their preferred roles.

This is a very useful tool for our international recruiters during staffing periods, when they send out service dates to all applicants in order to fill the staffing schedule of the ship.

Also, If there is an urgent need, you are the first ones to be contacted to fill in the role.

You will receive regular updates from the ship and once service dates are offered and accepted by you, the preship procedure is facilitated as most tasks have already been completed.

Being part of the Talent Community requires some patience, but it has many advantages!

Aarzel niet ons Belgisch team te contacteren voor ondersteuning, we kunnen je met heel wat praktische en concrete vragen helpen!

N'hésitez pas à contacter notre équipe belge pour obtenir de l'aide, nous pouvons vous aider avec toutes vos questions pratiques et concrètes !
